BLOOMER GIRLS MAKE A HIT IN OGDEN

Play "Dad" Gimlin's League Team a Close Losing Game; Score 10 to 8.

Special to The Tribune. OGDEN, Aug. 21.—If Tom Smith, who caught the game for the Boston Bloomer girls, and the other two men on the team playing at third base and in the box had been eliminated from the game and their places filled by women who knew the national game as well as the balance of the team, the result in Friday afternoon's game with the Ogden league team might have been a different story. If so happened that the game was far from being a dead one, the score being 10 to 8 in favor of the Lobsters.

The Boston Bloomers, composed of an aggregation of women ball players, arrived in Ogden Friday morning and met "Dad" Gimlin's Lobsters at the fair grounds in the afternoon. If there is any doubt that there is such a thing extant as a good woman ball player, that doubt could be easily dispelled by watching this aggregation play the game.

Carrie Nation, who held the first bag for the visitors, knows as many points of the game as some of the big leaguers. She accepted some difficult chances, and made only one error during the entire time in the field, and figured in some really sensational plays.

Maud Andrews, who started in to pitch, became disgusted in the early stages because the three male members of the team failed to give her the proper support, and went over to shortstop, where she fielded some difficult chances.

The way in which Norine McAlvany, a diminutive young miss, got under some of the high ones out in right field caught the crowd. The Bloomer girls were slightly handicapped in throwing the ball from the outfield, but they worked the "relay" system to a nicety.

"Dad" Gimlin worked almost every man on his team in the box as the easy ones tossed over put "kinks" in their arms.

CLOTHIER BEATS AMES IN STUBBORN GAME

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 21.—There were a number of ranked players paired in the all-comers tourneys in the national tennis championship at Casino today but the committee featured the match between William J. It was hoped to reach the semi-final round on Saturday or Monday and the final challenge matches on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

The players again were favored with excellent weather today.

The Clothier-Ames contest proved a straight set affair, as was anticipated. Providence player put up such a stubborn defense in the second set that fourteen games were necessary and seven of them went to Deuce two or three times.

Emerson, the Chicago player, found some difficulty in disposing of C. M. Bell of New York, four sets being necessary. Emerson defeated Bell, 6-4, 6-5, 2-6, 6-3.
